FIRE DEPARTMENT CHECKS BLAZE IN RECORD TIME

City And County Officials Will Be "Replaced" Tomorrow By New Ones

The entire city and county administrations in Murray will be given the broom tomorrow. The clean sweep will replace all our present political executives with brand-new officials, furnished by the Boy Scouts of America.

Tomorrow is "Boy Scout Day" in Murray, and the public offices will be relinquished to members of the local patrols—for two hours, at least—in observance of the 39th birthday of Scouting. This will be the first time such a stunt has been participated in by the Boy Scouts of Murray.

The "candidates" will assemble tomorrow afternoon at 12:30 in the hall on the main floor of the Court House, from where they will be conducted to their offices. The following Scouts will serve as officials in the capacities designated.

Mayor, Gene Geurin, Chief of Police, Bud Tolley, Patrolmen, Jerry Lavender, Harry Furches, Robert Garland, Jerry Bynum, Jerry Johnson, Max Barnett, and Gerald Surter.

City Clerk, Dick Charles; City Judge, W. T. Jeffrey; Fire Chief, Dale Barnett; Assistant Fire Chief, Paul Blankenship; Firemen, Hugh Roberts, George Waldrop, Billy Mott, Donnie Klubb, Gene Williams; Sheriff, Bobby Woods; Deputy Sheriffs, James Woods, James Glasgow.

County Court Clerk, W. T. Parker; Circuit Court Clerk, Frank Miller; County Health Department, Bobby Starks and Jerry Overcast; Red Cross Supervisor, Dickey Williams, and Superintendent of County schools, Edward Overbey.

Miss Alice B. Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Roberts of Murray Route 4, was recently made educational director of Tampus, Inc., incorporated in New York City, where she has been educational consultant since June 25, 1948.

In her former position, Miss Roberts lectured in high schools and colleges as well as to student nurses and adult groups all over the country. In her new capacity she will direct all of this sort of work for the company in the United States and Canada, and will be in charge of all educational exhibits at conventions participated in by her company.

Miss Roberts, a graduate of Murray State College in the class of 1939, taught physical education in schools of Cincinnati previous to her affiliation with Tampus, Inc.

Training School Reports Results Of Safety Study

Mrs. Ollie Barnett, chairman of the safety council at the Training School, announced today that splendid improvements have been reported as the result of this year's project of the Mothers' Club, "Safety for Children."

The campaign for safety, particularly in school buses on the highways, has been publicized by the safety committee through the press, by radio spot announcements, by a series of talks, and through the distribution of letters to the parents of the school children.

In the last letter which was disseminated by the safety committee, the importance of observing the traffic regulations applying to school buses was emphasized as follows:

Certain rules and regulations have been made by the State Board of Education which will help insure comfort, health and safety of the children on the buses. We would like to remind you of a few regula-

DEMOCRATS CAN NOT ESTIMATE COSTS NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON — House Democratic leaders will admit defeat publicly today in their efforts to estimate this early in the year how much the government should spend next year.

The chairman of the house Appropriations Committee, plans to ask the lower chamber today for a 75-day delay in making the estimate. Chairman Clarence Cannon says it is impossible at this time to carry out the law requiring congress to set a ceiling on spending by February 15. Under the proposal of the Missouri Democrat, the estimate of federal spending for the government business year beginning July 1 would be delayed until May 1.

Says Cannon—"that is the very earliest we will be able to arrive at any kind of a sound estimate."

NEW SNOWS PILE UP AS BLIZZARDS HIT WEST AGAIN

More snow and high winds are sweeping the north and central west coast this morning, and inland, strong winds are causing old snow to drift over highways just cleared by bulldozers and other equipment.

Many far western towns, particularly in Oregon, Washington and northern California, are cut off by towering drifts. Army engineers view the situation in the blizzard-swept cattle belt as serious. They say all their work of breaking roads to snowbound ranches could be undone in a matter of hours.

Light snow fell in much of the Great Lakes region last night. And it's raining now in a belt from western Great Lakes southward through the upper Ohio Valley. Generally fair weather prevails over the remainder of the country, except for a few thunderstorms reported in the southwest.

Temperatures are still rather cold except in the Florida area, where it continues mild. A few early morning temperatures reported by the Chicago weather bureau were: Chicago 10; Minneapolis zero; Grand Forks, North Dakota, 14 below; Denver 23; Atlanta 47; New York 32; Fort Worth 31; Miami 68; Los Angeles 48 and Seattle 35.

MURRAY-LOUISVILLE GAME HERE TONIGHT MAY BE SEASON'S BEST

Coach Harlan Hodges will send his Murray State Thunderbirds onto the floor tonight at the Court Health Building against the Cardinals of Louisville in what may well prove to be the most exciting game of the season.

Starting under a 68-83 loss to the Cardinals in Louisville January 28, the Racers will be out for revenge on their home court.

In 20 games played to date the Racers have won 13 while losing seven. Four of the wins were against schools in the Ohio Valley Conference championship playing their first game against Eastern. If victorious over the Richmond team, they will have to meet Western or Western's tournament conquerors to advance to the finals.

On February 23 the Thunderbirds will journey to Louisville for a crack at the Ohio Valley Conference championship playing their first game against Eastern. If victorious over the Richmond team, they will have to meet Western or Western's tournament conquerors to advance to the finals.

PLANS SHAPING UP FOR TOURNEY OF W. K. C. HERE
The Murray High school gymnasium will draw basketball fans from all over West Kentucky this weekend when the W.K.C. tournament gets underway Friday night.

The Tigers are favored in the lower bracket, although Henderson, who plays Mayfield the first night, holds a 16-point victory over the host team. In the upper bracket last year's conference champions, the Blue Tornado of Tighman High, will go up against Bowling Green in the conference opener.

While Tighman is generally conceded to be the favorite for this year's crown, the boys of Coach Otis Dinning will be strongly challenged by Madisonville, who should meet the Blue Tornado on Saturday afternoon, and by our own Murray Tigers who bid fair to fight their way into the win column.

CUB PACK MEETS THURSDAY NIGHT

J. E. Stanford, Louisville, executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau, is announcing the session, asked for at least three representatives from each county—all to be officers or directors of the organization or the county agent.

As usual, a banquet and breakfast will be held as part of the program. Some of the program will be devoted to consideration of functions and operations of the organization on a classroom basis.

TRAINING SCHOOL DOWNED 55-36 BY MAYFIELD CAGERS

The Training School was tumbled last night by a strong Cardinal team in Mayfield as Herbie Hunt's 24 points led the winners to a 55-36 victory.

During the first eight minutes, the Colts held Mayfield within 3 points of a game, but a thundering Redbird barrage in the second period put the game on ice with a 15-point margin.

Throughout the second half, Coach Red Harrison of Mayfield substituted freely. Charley Murphy was runner-up for the Cardinals with 14 points while Houston and Jackson scored 11 and 10 points each for the Colts.

PROBATION GIVEN TO GREENUP MAN

Greenup, Kentucky — (UP) — It was a dramatic moment in the judge's chambers when Mac Brayer, former trustee officer in the Raccoon land schools, was granted the probation for which prominent citizens had pleaded ever since his conviction.

Mac Brayer was given the 12-year sentence for the fatal shooting of Vincent O. See, Morristown, West Virginia, as the climax of an argument over alleged relation between See and Mrs. Mac Brayer.

The probation hearing had aroused wide interest in Greenup County and the surrounding area, and this morning when the pleadings for both sides were heard, the courtroom was jammed.

Mac Brayer was choked with emotion, and near tears. He could make no coherent statement at the time, and left immediately for his home in Raccoon.

Ten of the jurors who found him guilty of murder had asked that the sentence be probation. But See's widow and West Virginia State Senator Louis Bean had pleaded against granting the probation at the hearing this morning.

It was also announced at this morning's chapel exercises that class periods will be stepped up ten minutes each on Friday, so that all high school classes will be over by 1:30 in order to make way for the West Kentucky Conference Tournament preparations Friday afternoon.

MURRAY HIGH IS 66-48 WINNER OVER BENTON

Bouncing back from last week's defeat by Calvert City, the Murray High Tigers took a breather yesterday afternoon at Benton by coasting to a 66-48 victory over the Indians.

Although Benton was trailing by 23 points at the end of the third quarter, a last-period rally promised to put them back in the running until the Tigers retaliated with a burst of power that set up the lopsided score.

Murray's scoring was paced by Bobby Hargis with 21 points, followed by Glen Jeffrey with 18, Baker and Adkins led the losers with 17 and 13 markers respectively.

A major fire disaster in downtown Murray was narrowly averted this morning when flames of unknown origin in the second story of Barnett and Kerley, Inc., were discovered just before dawn and quickly brought under control by members of the Murray Fire Department.

Owners of the store, Van Barnett and L. E. Kerley, stated that the loss, in excess of $2500, has not been definitely determined, but were of the opinion that the entire building would have been lost if the firemen had not worked with such speed and organization.

The blaze was reported at 5:50 a. m. by W. V. Jeffrey, who discovered smoke pouring out the windows of the building located on the east side of the square. Chief of Police Burman Parker and Patrolman Adolphus Webb took the alarm and aroused the fire-fighting crew on duty, who were at the scene of the fire a few minutes later.

After climbing to the second story window to determine the exact location of the flames, Fire Chief W. O. Spencer ordered two 100-foot lines run into the building through the front door, which had been unlocked by Van Barnett, also summoned to the scene of the fire. While R. C. Harp, front lineman, trawled to the vicinity of the burning wall, and stock shelves to cover the flames with one stream of water, two other firemen backed him up with a second hose-line.

Damage to the main store downstairs was almost completely eliminated by the careful use of equipment and by the covering of all stock by heavy tarpaulins for protection against water and smoke.

After the fire was extinguished, inspection revealed that most of the stock stored on the second floor suffered varying degrees of damage, mainly from the terrific heat generated by the blaze. The upstairs area is used principally as a warehouse for the display spaces on the main floor.

Chief Spencer described the conflagration as a series of flames extending along the south wall of the second story. This would suggest defective wiring as the origin of the fire, he stated, although no evidence of such a source has been found. The Chief also named spontaneous combustion or smoldering cigarette ashes as possible causes.

Buildings adjacent to the Barnett and Kerley store were not damaged by the heat, although the Farm-Gibbs Dress Shop was filled with dense smoke during the fire. In the latter, stock was adequately protected from smoke damage by stock covers.

Loss to stock and damage to the building were covered by insurance. The building is owned by Mrs. Effie Whitfill.

Kentucky's entire congressional delegation also is expected to attend, including the two new United States Senators from the Bluegrass State—Virgil Chapman of Paris and Carroll L. Withers of Dixon, who took Barkley's place.

Responses from within the State, itself, has been tremendous, according to Robert B. Hensley, State chairman for the dinner. Hensley said the committee confidently expected to sell 1,000 tickets.

Proceeds from the dinner, over and above expenses, chiefly will go to the State Democratic Committee and to the National Committee. The dinner will be at the Seelbach Hotel at 8:30 p. m.

Murray's Opportunity

It is hard for us to realize the change which has been wrought in our section by the proximity of Kentucky Lake, and we are still astounded by such casual news announcements as the item yesterday which stated that 6000 people, representing seven states including New York and Michigan, were visitors to the Lake area on Sunday.

If our now-famous lake resort lures such a crowd on a fair day in February, it is virtually impossible to estimate the throngs which will be attracted to this region during the coming Spring and Summer months.

Of particular interest to the people of Murray is the fact that our own Kentucky Lake State Park, within fifteen minutes of our homes, is being developed as the number one attraction throughout the entire vacation-land. Those who have not driven out to the site—formerly known as Higgins Boat Dock—in recent months will be amazed at the development which has taken place at the park.

The buildings which have gone up on the wooded promontory just this side of the Eggers Ferry Bridge would do justice to any park in the country. To date, three beautifully-styled observation houses and a luxuriously-appointed bath house have been more than half-way completed. The finished structures, along with smooth roadways, sanded beach, landscaped terrain and swimming basin, will undoubtedly become a mecca for tourists as well as a handy retreat for local vacationers.

It is obvious, too, that new businesses are mushrooming in the vicinity of the lake. These enterprises range all the way from roadside stands to a full-sized resort hotel in various stages of construction. All of this commercial activity means more business for Murray, of course, and there is no way of determining the potential volume which may be in store for our merchants.

We are well aware, too, of the fact which must be acknowledged that all these developments in our front yard will bring new problems to our door. Whenever the public provides itself with a place of pleasure and wholesome enjoyment, it must inevitably contend with the army of vices which makes its encampment nearby. Unless we are careful, we must expect these undesirable influences to take root close enough to our Kentucky Lake State Park to prey on the traffic which is the life-blood of such parasites.

On the other hand, if Murray insists on proper policing and controls in those areas where our community's good influence can be brought to bear, then there is no reason why our city should not reap the choicest benefits of the expansion which is promising to put Kentucky Lake and Murray truly "on the map."

Scouting 39 Years Old Today

"Boys will be boys," they say.
But we're sure you'll agree they're better, friendlier, happier boys if they're in the ranks of the Boy Scouts of America. For 39 years, the Boy Scouts have made an increasing contribution to a better America through a well-planned, up-to-date program to meet boys' interests. It's a program of adventure that appeals to every boy, when he's a Scout.

Many a boy's life is over still needs to be informed of the exciting activities of Scouting. Many a parent needs to discover the value of Scouting for his boy. Many an adult needs to find out if a enjoyment to be derived from helping boys find themselves through Scouting. Many a man should look into the merits and advantages of sponsoring a troop of Boy Scouts.

For these reasons we're taking the opportunity, during Boy Scout Week, to remind you of your responsibility to the boys of America—the men of tomorrow.

COWGIRL QUEEN—Shirley Lucas, chosen queen of the annual Palm Springs (Calif.) World Championship Rodeo, to be held Feb. 5, 6 and 7, displays her talent as a rider. All world champions of the cowboy and cowgirl realm will gather at the meet to defend their titles.

CHINA'S FLOATING REFUGEES—After picking up chips of coal in Shanghai to cook their food, these young refugees who live on a sampan on the city's muddy Szechow Creek eat a warm meal and play with their pet cats. Shanghai is teeming with refugees and Szechow Creek is swamped with little sampans in which live thousands who fled from war-ravaged North China.

Veterans in institutional and on-the-job training who submit changes of address to the Veterans Administration should indicate if the changes are temporary or permanent, V. A. said today.

In cases of permanent changes of address, so specifying will speed up the transfer of the veteran's record to the regional office having jurisdiction over the area in which he will be located.

Trainees who are going on short vacations and have subsistence checks due to arrive during their absence should submit a change of address with a notation that it is only temporary so that their checks will be forwarded.

The Veterans Administration today urged World War II veterans to keep appointments for medical or dental care which have been authorized in their respective cases by V. A.

The V. A. said veterans should make every effort to obtain prescribed examination or treatment within the time limit in their respective cases. Broken appointments frequently cause unnecessary delays in medical or dental care.

Medical examinations must be given within the period specified on the authorization certificate. Treatments generally are prescribed on a month-to-month basis. Dental examinations must be given within 30 days of the date on the authorization certificate, while any subsequent treatments are scheduled by the dentist at his discretion, but within a reasonable period of time.

Under existing legislation, veterans may be furnished outpatient medical or dental care in V. A. clinics, in private offices of physicians or dentists or in their own homes only for disabilities recognized by V. A. as incurred or aggravated in line of duty in active service.

World War II veterans who believe they are eligible for medical or dental care at government expense may make application at any V. A. office, presenting a discharge certificate which is other than dishonorable.

Southerners On Sideline In Fight

The Southern Democrats sat on the sidelines yesterday, at the start of the 1949 renewal of the battle over filibusters.

The opponents didn't have to get in and mix it up yesterday. They were hands down as politics and the political leaders took over and settled the first skirmish on party lines.

The test case was a resolution by Republican Sen. Knowland of California, it would have disallowed the Senate committee from making any further consideration of a proposal to give senators a new weapon against filibusters.

That's a political move, it is saying to a committee "We don't like the way you've been doing it. We want you to change it. You have been doing it wrong. You don't trust us ever to give us a chance to vote, and so we're taking over the handling of ourselves on the floor from now on."

Senators just don't go for that kind of talk, even if it is in politics. But Sen. Knowland said "At least not without impeding reason. A discharge petition is one of the most difficult moves to get approved in the Senate."

Late in a session, sometimes there's a change. Early in the session, it's almost an impossibility. And so with the 81st Congress only a little more than a month old, Senator Knowland was hard put to show the committee was dead, or that it intended to kill the proposal with the popular kind of discharge petition.

But Senator Knowland argued that a discharge petition is a special case—that the only time to break a filibuster is early in a session before other important bills are waiting at the Senate door.

"Every day," he said, "makes it more likely that we can pass any kind of bill."

Knowland was pushing for a change in the rules, which would permit the Senate to get back at any time by a two-thirds vote. Under present rules, the Senate can't do that until a measure is under consideration. But every Senate measure has to be placed by the motion to set it to the floor. And every motion is subject to unlimited debate.

So, Knowland pointed out, the Senate had looked at the discharge petition, but it was not under consideration. It was not under consideration, it was not under consideration, it was not under consideration.

But he limited, it was not under consideration, it was not under consideration, it was not under consideration. The present rule was adopted in 1917 after a filibuster had killed the proposal for President Wilson to arm United States merchant ships. The Senate was so great the Senate arrived overwhelmingly to change the rule.

That vote, said Knowland, was meant to be something. It was not meant to be the kind of thing it has turned out to be. That clever men have found a loophole does not relieve us of our responsibilities.

That loophole the Senator concluded, has become as effective as the Soviet use of the veto in the United Nations.

ed that his group could not be accused of being derelict in its duties that his committee had complete public hearings in less than ten days and that there would be no long wait in bringing the proposal to the floor once his committee acted. However, he refused to be pinned down on any specific time.

From here on the political leaders took over. Democrats, accused Republicans of injecting politics into the issue. Republicans of course, said Democrats the same complaint. There it ended.

Knowland's resolution went down 56 to 31.

But it was not a true test on the floor of the anti-filibuster move. For many who would favor a rule change to curbing filibusters with discharge petitions, however, they eyed another they'd be on the other side of the fence when the resolution comes to the floor through committee channels.

At that time, the Southern Democrats won't be able to sit the fight out.

Six Carloads Of Landlords Going To Washington

Tulsa, Oklahoma—A six-car trainload of landlords reportedly will arrive in Washington in 10 days to protest against rent controls.

The leader of the campaign against rent ceilings—the Reverend Wallace Murphy of Tulsa, Oklahoma—says the landlords will attend a national conference February 11. Murphy says the train will have at least two cars full of Tulsa property owners, two from Kansas City, and as he put it, "we'll pick up the others as we go along."

When Murphy first announced the Tulsa plan to evict tenants in protest against rent controls, he said he had no money to make the Washington trip. But now he says contributions have been pouring in since the plan became top news.

39th Anniversary FEBRUARY 6 TO 12 BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

In every part of the nation more than 2,300,000 boys and their adult leaders, will observe Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6th to 12th, marking the 39th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. The theme of the celebration is "Adventure—That's Scouting!" This year the movement is emphasizing the fun and fellowship its members get out of the game of Scouting. More high adventure is planned in the out-of-doors. Their adventure in citizenship will find Scouts emphasizing civic service activities, emergency service training and world Scouting relationships. During Boy Scout Week, Scouts, their parents and countless communities will honor the volunteer adult leaders of the nation's 70,000 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units. Above is the official poster marking the Scout birthday.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX
"AN OPEN-AND-SHUT CASE"
You mean you have—an idea as to the guilty person?
"Jim asked, with a beautifully balanced interest and curiosity in his voice."
"Not as to the identity, no," admitted Bob. "But I'm convinced that it was some prowler—a would-be burglar who was frightened off before he had a chance to steal anything. Though, of course, it's not usual for a burglar to be supplied with a knife as a weapon—I don't believe he brought the weapon with him. I believe that he used one of the victim's own knives—a large kitchen knife." He broke off, scarlet and embarrassed as he saw Megan's white, open-mouthed expression. "Good grief, Miss MacTavish—I ought to be kicked! Please forgive me—I'm thoroughly ashamed—Larry, you ought to have better sense than to allow me out with your friends. I'm sorry, Miss MacTavish—I do apologize."
Megan managed a faint smile and said huskily, "Please don't—I am a bit squeamish, I suppose. You see—I knew her well."
Bob nodded soberly. "I know—everybody says you are the only real friend she had. Everybody else seemed to dislike her and distrust her. I guess that's the reason I was speaking so frankly. Let's forget it. After all, a real like this deserves more cheerful and appreciative conversation!"
When the meal was over, and the men were settled in the living room, Megan stayed to help Annie clear the table. And while she was thus engaged, Laurence came back into the dining room, and stood at her shoulder and said very low, "I just wanted you to know, Meggie, that—everything is quite all right. There's nothing at all for you to worry about."
Megan looked up at him, tears thick in her eyes, her mouth trembling. "I—met him by accident, Larry. I didn't plan it—truth."
He looked down at her, frowning. "But—good heavens, Meggie, don't you suppose I know that? He protested, almost as though she resented her feeling that she should offer such an explanation. She caught her breath and a wave of relief swept over her. She smiled through her tears and said huskily, "Thanks, Larry."
"For what?" The frown still drew his brows together. "For knowing that you couldn't possibly do anything wrong? For knowing that you couldn't make or keep a trust with a man tied up as Jim Fallon is? For Heaven's sake, Meggie—I've known you since you were a baby—don't you suppose I know you well enough to know that if you met Tom Fallon on the Ridge at midnight, it was an accident?"
Her smile grew deeper, and she blinked the tears from her eyes and said once more, gratefully, "Thanks, dear! Thanks!"
Laurence hesitated a moment and then he said quietly, "I'd like to ask you something, Meggie—mind?"
"No, of course not."
"Then—are you in love with Fallon?"
The words were quietly spoken, but they took her breath so that she could only look up at him, unable to speak. But the way the color flowed into her face, the look in her eyes gave him all the answer he needed.
"So that's why you—couldn't get excited about marrying me," he said after a moment, very quietly.
SHE set her teeth hard in her lower lip, not daring to trust her voice to answer him, and after a little he said in a tone of the
